

Until recently women have been written out of history. And yet, the important female reform leaders in This Isn't Right: Women Reform Leaders were indispensable to making this world a more just place. Today you are responsible to give these well-deserving women their rightful place in history by creating a place-setting for them at the metaphorical table of history.

Your plate can either be abstract or literal, but you must be able to explain your artistic choices. Feel free to print images from the Cyber Exhibit to include in your project. When you have finished your plate, write a short paragraph describing your reform leader. Make sure to include when she lived and worked, what she did, and her important contributions; your classmates will be reading these, so make sure they are well written.

List of Reform Leaders

---

- Sojourner Truth
- Harriet Beecher Stowe
- Lydia Maria Child
- Julia Ward Howe
- Dorothea Dix
- Clara Barton
- Maria Mitchell
- Mary Livermore
- Anna Howard Shaw
- Jane Addams
- Florence Nightingale
- Margaret Sanger
- Eleanor Roosevelt
- Frances Willard
- Helen Keller
- Lucretia Mott
- Susan B. Anthony
- Lucy Stone